

5-Beat Storyboard

The African Elephant

5-Beat Storyboard Concept: the idea behind the 5-Beat Storyboard is to provide learners with quick -yet compelling- information about the plight of endangered species. The storyboard starts with a species and it's habitat; then it's conversation status; why it is endangered; then what it will take to save it and finally the question "can it be saved." This storyboard can apply to any species that is in danger of extinction, and can also give learners quick facts and pique their interest.

Bagheera.com

Bagheera.com
an endangered species education website

Beat 1: The species and it's habitat

Beat 2: The species conservation status

Beat 3: The plight the species faces

Beat 4: The ways to save the species

Beat 5: Can the species be saved?